Army Veteran Returns Home

Pte. Richard F. Wiersma, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Wiersma of Vulcan, returned home on Sunday after serving for the last three years in the Canadian Provost Corps in Canada, Korea and Japan.

He was wounded while serving in Korea this spring and was returned to Canada, serving recently at Camp Borden. He has now received his discharge from the army.

While in the East he visited with his younger brother, Jimmy, who is in the R.C.A.F. at Trenton, Ont., and will remain in Alberta to attend the wedding of his sister, Beulah, at Ralston in September. In October he will return to Eastern Canada and hopes to join the R.C.M.P.

Blackleg of Potato—A Present Danger

The potato crop is generally more susceptible to more diseases than any other crop grown in Alberta. One of these diseases which appears on most potato fields is Blackleg. The very moist conditions of the past several weeks in most areas of the province has been favorable to the development of this disease. The result, says W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, is that Blackleg is appearing in many commercial potato fields. Traces of this disease may even be found in seed fields.

Blackleg may show up early in July and continue to make its appearance until late August. Diseased plants are easily recognized by their somewhat stunted appearance and by the pale green or yellow foliage. The upper leaves usually become dwarfed, stiff and erect, while the margins of the leaflets are rolled up. Closer examination reveals a soft rot developed at the base of the stems. The rot at first has a greenish water-soaked appearance but later turns quite black. The tubers develop a soft rot at the stem ends. Such tubers may rot in the field or in storage if conditions are favorable.

Seed plots, and other potato fields which are held for seed, should be thoroughly rogued of all diseased plants at once. The tubers as well as the tops should be removed from the field and destroyed. All roguing should be continued from now till fall in order to remove all affected plants which may appear as the season progresses. In this way, if good seed was used in the spring, the plots should be relatively clear of blackleg. A little effort now will go a long way in increased quantity and quality next year.

Offering of New Range Sheep Breeds

Alberta sheep breeders should benefit from the sale of 100 rams of the Canadian Corriedale, Romney and Rambouillet breeds. These have been developed to grow good wool, provide a good carcass and be well adapted to our Alberta range conditions.

The Canadian Corriedale had its start at the Lethbridge Experimental Station in 1919 from a cross of Lincoln rams and Rambouillet ewes. Since then some New Zealand Corriedale blood has been added.

The Romney, another new breed, originates from work begun at Manyberries Range Experiment Station in 1935. Romney rams and Rambouillet ewes were crossed and a thick bodied, deep compact animal has been developed with good wool characteristics.

The Rambouillets being offered are the result of long and careful selection to improve the carcass and maintain wool production.

Sale will be by auction at Manyberries on the occasion of the annual Range Station Field Day on August 30. "Jack" Blacklock of Saskatoon will wield the hammer.

Seriously Hurt In Farm Accident

Tom Houlton, district farmer, received a fractured right arm and leg, and other undetermined injuries in the first harvest accident of the season Monday, when he became entangled in the power take-off of his swather.

Houlton was making the first round of his fall harvest operations, when he leaned over the take-off, which carried no shield. He was drawn into the machinery, and only the prompt action of Norman Reynolds, the hired man, and Boyd McKay, a neighbor who happened to be passing at the moment, saved him from even greater injuries.

McKay took Houlton to the Vulcan hospital, where he was given blood transfusions to counteract considerable blood loss where his leg was deeply gashed, at the point of fracture. X-rays are to be taken today to determine the extent of suspected back injuries.

Neighbors of the Houltons came in with their outfits early Tuesday and are busy swathing the fields that are ready, and many offers have been made to assist in every way in getting the injured man's crop harvested.

Special Speakers At Local Churches

Miss Doris Dye, missionary of the Sudan Interior Mission, Africa, spoke in the Vulcan Church of Christ Sunday night, August 24. Miss Dye became connected with the mission in 1948, and now, after serving four years on the field, is home on furlough. Her Canadian home is in Olds.

During the evening service on Sunday night Miss Dye presented a generous number of slide pictures of the mission work in the Sudan. Among these were pictures of the Moslems and diseased natives.

Miss Dye also spoke in the Evangelical United Brethren church on Tuesday evening.

David Howell Rees, missionary to the Burmese people of Asia, will speak in the Vulcan Church of Christ Sunday night, August 31 at 7:30. Mr. Rees worked among the Chinese people in China until the communists forced withdrawal into Burma over two years ago, and since that time he has been connected with the Burmese.

Mr. Rees resided in Vulcan during his youth. He will be accompanied by his wife and family during this short visit to the community.

him good health and many well wishes for the coming years.

It is with deep regret that we learn of two sicknesses and one death concerning the Milo community. Our sincerest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Olie Willard on the death of their youngest son, Mark Henry, who was drowned in the water tank on Aug. 24. Miss Sandra Smith, formerly of Milo has been stricken with Polio and is confined in the isolation hospital in Calgary.

Mrs. Joe Thompson Jr. has been confined to the Vulcan hospital for a few days with blood poisoning in her hand. She had a small cut on her hand and then gave a home permanent which started the poisoning.

Have you been to the square dancing any Wednesday night yet? Earl Mortz who brings the shows to Milo, holds a square dancing class after the show. He attended a two week school of this type of dancing this summer and is now showing anyone who is interested how to do the different calls and how to do them properly. Everyone and anyone interested is cordially invited to attend and participate.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kish and son Murray of Cremona have been visiting friends and relations in the community for the past few days.

It is with regret that we learned of the death recently of an old timer of this district, Mr. Dick Deitz of Puyallup, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crain and daughter Beverly of Calgary accompanied by Carl Glembeck and Mrs. E. W. Harrison of San Francisco were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Umschied. Mrs. Crain and Mrs. Harrison are spending a few days in Milo renewing old acquaintance and looking over the country that they once knew so well. Mrs. Harrison will be remembered as the former "Pinkie" Glembeck and Mrs. Crain as Ellen Glembeck who

U.N. Secretary-General Tours Europe

First School in Snake Valley Closes After 44 Years' Service

SNAKE VALLEY'S first school closes after 44 years of continued service. Queenstown school was built in 1908 and was the first school in the valley. Jesse Hepner from Gleichen was engaged as carpenter. The rest of the labor was supplied by the local settlers. The lumber was bought from William Brown and Sons lumber yard, Queenstown.

Miss Anne Cavers from Calgary was the first teacher. She boarded with Mr. and Mrs. George Macomber, who lived one half mile south of the school, and walked to school in sunshine, rain and snowstorm, as did most of the pupils in those days. No need to worry and fret over school vans, and high grades, and the snowbanks that lay in the ditches, and what would happen if the van slipped in. If they didn't feel like walking they hitched old Dobbin to the buggy or sleigh and he went his own merry way down the prairie trail to school and home again at the end of the day.

A homesteader by the name of Lon Tibbits was the first janitor. One of the first men on the schoolboard was George Macomber. The teacher's salary was $50.00 a month, $12.00 on a quarter section of land was what the taxes amounted to.

Miss Cavers stayed one year. The next few teachers were, Miss Tuttle from Nova Scotia; Miss Gussie Paul, also from Nova Scotia; Miss Bertha Jackson, Medicine Hat; Miss Dunbar and Miss Jessie Taggart. They all boarded at Geo. Macomber's.

The first pupils were Nels Nelson, Frank, Margaret and Lloyd Durston, Florence Smitheram; John and Alfred Vinje, Bob Hill; Jim, Frances, Eva and Wilbur Hall, Eric and Bob Shore, Alan Aasgard, Nellie Munroe, Ralph Macomber, Irene Jensen, Clara and Thelma Soli, John and Alex Johnson.

The school was the centre of all the districts social functions, political meetings, church, box socials, dances and card parties.

Its four walls could tell many tales of joys and sorrows and fame of some of its former pupils.

Now after all these years only an echo will remain of former days.

Miss Susan Brown has returned home to Calgary after spending two weeks with her niece Mrs. Jesse Lahd.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLaughlin received word from Keith that he had arrived in Vancouver, after spending more than a year in Korea.

Austin Brown is in town visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Helma Brown of California is visiting her dad, Pete Soli.

Mrs. P. Gooch and Shirley spent last weekend in Claresholm, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Miller.

once lived on the farm now owned by Lawrence Monner. Although many of their friends have moved away they have still spent a very enjoyable time visiting with those still here.

Mrs. Hulbert who has recently been in the Bassano hospital, is now home again and feeling much better.

Good Crop, Good Grade Indicated

Harvest Becoming General As Fine Weather Holds

Swathing operations in the Vulcan area are just getting into full swing this week, but another two or three days should see harvesting operations going full blast.

West of town some fields will still require a week of warm weather before they are ready to swath, but swathing and combining of coarse grains is now fairly general throughout the district.

Swathing at other points in the county is reported to be general and wheat is now starting to come in to the elevators. It looks like a good crop, with wheat grading No. 1 Northern except where the swathing or combining has been done too hurriedly.

Reports indicate that Kirkcaldy, Champion and Carmangay elevators have been receiving a few grain cars lately, but at Vulcan the situation has not eased to any extent and elevators have very little space for the new crop.

A very light shower of rain fell here Tuesday night but did not delay harvesting, as the sun came out warm and strong Wednesday morning.

Child Drowns In Water Tank

A twenty-one months old boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall (Olie) Willard of Queenstown, was drowned on Sunday afternoon when he fell in a watering tank at his parents' farm near Queenstown.

The child, Mark Marshall Willard, was found dead by his parents when he failed to come to supper at six o'clock. He had been playing alone in the yard during the afternoon.

Dr. E. M. Gee was summoned and was assisted by the parents in giving artificial respiration, but without success. The oxygen inhalator at the Vulcan swimming pool also failed to revive the boy.

Following investigation by Const. P. J. Molyneux, R.C.M.P., Dr. A. D. Tompkins, coroner, declared the death accidental and an inquest not necessary.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by a brother, aged 6, and a sister, 8. The father is a councillor of the County of Vulcan and Hank Willard, world champion chuckwagon driver, is an uncle.

Funeral services for the young boy were held in the Vulcan United Church, conducted by Rev. Peter Dawson, and burial was made in the Vulcan cemetery.

and the toast to the bride was very efficiently proposed by Rev. Kroing and responded to by the groom.

Later the young couple left for a honeymoon to Waterton Lakes, Seattle, Vancouver, and visited with the bride's sister at New Westminster and the groom's parents at Kelowna. They are returning by way of Jasper.

For going away the bride changed to a suit of grey flannel, with which she wore pink accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

On their return they will make their home in Calgary.

Reid Hill W.I. Hears Reports

The regular meeting of the Reid Hill W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Sales, Thursday, Aug. 14, with 11 members and one visitor present. Mrs. P. Bowie, the president, was in the chair and opened the meeting with the salute to the flag, repeating of the Club Women's Creed and the singing of O Canada. One minute's silence was observed in honor of the late Mrs. Cecil Smith, a former member.

Routine business matters were dealt with, and Mrs. Bowie gave a report on the dinner served by the branch for the official opening of the propane plant at Vulcan, and of the wedding reception catered to by the Reid Hill ladies. The report showed both projects had been very successful, and a satisfactory sum realized. The matter of the branch securing an Honor Roll for the men who had served in the second Great War, from the Reid Hill district was again discussed and tabled until more information can be secured.

A most interesting paper on Agriculture, particularly as it is carried on in a number of foreign countries, was given by Mrs. McMillan and much enjoyed.

The tea draw was won by Mrs. Jack Marshall, and a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Blanche Kitchen. A birthday cake was cut in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. P. Bowie, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Sales.

Since mining first started in the Sudbury district of Northern Ontario, 41 mines have produced 334,000,000 pounds of nickel ore.

First Wheat Delivered Here

The first load of 1952 wheat to be delivered to a local elevator was brought in Saturday by Allen and Bride from the C. M. Allen farm, near Milo. It graded No. 1 Northern and weighed 64 lbs. to the bushel. Of Rescue strain, this crop was yielding 45 bushels to the acre on breaking.

Garage Business Changes Hands

Norman Pettie of Calgary, who for the past six years has operated the Sunalta Auto Body Works in that city, has purchased the business known as Mensinger Motors from Fred J. Mensinger and will reopen the garage under the name of Wheat Centre Motors on Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Mr. Pettie is now making arrangements to staff the garage with competent mechanics and will retain the agency of Meteor-Mercury-Lincoln.

Mr. Pettie is now living in Vulcan and will be joined by Mrs. Pettie and their three-year-old daughter as soon as living accommodation is available.

Campbell-Johner Wedding Rites

Most Pure Heart of Mary church at Barrie, Ont., was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Ann, daughter of Mrs. Martin Johner and the late Mr. Johner, of Estevan, Sask., and Donald Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Campbell, Vulcan, were united in marriage, Friday, June 27.

During the Mass and signing of the register Miss Margaret McKinnon played appropriate hymns. Given in marriage by Mr. Francis Hargreaves, the bride walked down the aisle to the strains of Lohengren's Wedding March, played by the church organist.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin, with tiny covered buttons down the front, and a Queen Anne collar trimmed with lace. The skirt was very full with peplum trim and matching lace. Tight fitting sleeves were fashioned with lily points, over the hand. Her finger tip veil fell from a lace Juliet cap, trimmed with seed pearls, and the only ornament worn by the bride was a gold cross, which her mother had worn on her wedding day. She carried a white prayer book and red roses with white satin streamers.

Miss Shirley Parker was the bride's only attendant, and she wore a gown of pale green silk pique with matching gloves. A wreath of pink carnations in her hair and a bouquet of pink carnations complemented her gown.

Mr. Richard Williams of Winnipeg attended the groom.

A reception was held at Camp Borden, at the Officers' mess, with Colonel Cameron, Officers' Training staff and Command Contingent and their wives present, as well as a number of other guests. Following the reception a short period of dancing was enjoyed by all present.

For her honeymoon in Toronto, the bride changed to a two-toned grey suit, with light blue accessories, and she wore a corsage of red roses.

The happy couple will make their home in Timmins, Ont., where the groom will be employed as linotype operator on a newspaper there.

Should Open Duck Season Now

That damage to crops by ducks is not confined to this area alone is shown in last Saturday's Lethbridge Herald, which carries a report of terrific damage to swathed crops in districts adjacent to that city.

Locally, it is estimated that the duck population is easily double that of August last year. Every slough and waterhole has its quota of mallards, pintails, spoonbills and teal and these ducks fly out to feed twice a day on somebody's crop.

Scare permits and shooting permits, issued before the regular season opens, may be effective enough to minimize damage to crops in years of normal duck population, but this year, when ideal breeding conditions have produced such tremendous numbers of ducks, the farmer can best be helped by opening the duck shooting season right now.

Harvest is just getting underway in this district. If the weather remains dry, swathing and combining can be done with a minimum of delay. Under these conditions, the grain loss to ducks can be controlled to a certain extent although the loss to the district in the money value of grain will still be thousands of dollars.

But what if there is a prolonged wet spell and farmers are unable to combine grain already swathed? This may be "borrowing trouble," but the situation could conceivably be worse than last year, when an estimated four hundred thousand dollars worth of grain in the County of Vulcan area was lost to ducks. Last year the loss was almost wholly caused by the great flocks of northern ducks that descended on the district. This year there are enough local ducks to cause heavy damage and if part of the crop is still unharvested when the northern ducks come down the situation will be beyond control.

There appears to be no solution to this problem, but opening the duck season right now, when swathing is becoming general, would give the hard-pressed, busy farmer more help in his battle against the web-footed marauders. Ducks trample and shell out more grain than they eat and anyone who is inclined to treat lightly the matter of duck damage to grain fields should have inspected some of the heavy-hit fields last fall, when 40-bushel crops were not worth combining after the ducks had descended on them a few times.

At the meeting in Vulcan last year, officials of the Wildlife Service of Canada admitted that control of the feeding habits of ducks was impossible in this area. That leaves two things to do: 1) Make it so difficult for them to feed here that they will move on to other parts of the country. 2) Reduce the duck population to a point where their numbers are not great enough to do heavy damage to crops.

We don't think that an open duck season right now will effectively accomplish both these points, but we do think it would have some effect.

We urge the provincial government to immediately take steps to have the duck season opened NOW.

Pre-Election Tax Cuts In 53?

Present indications are that the federal government plans to reduce taxes substantially in the 1953 pre-election budget.

Having budgeted for a surplus of only $9,000,000 for the entire year, the announcement that the surplus for the first two months amounted to $241,000,000, without benefit of the new tax rates that went into effect July 1, has again sparked the charge by its critics that the government is collecting unnecessary taxes, a detrimental factor in a pre-election period. This and the fact that the electors have indicated that the tax relief handed out this year in the form of lower excise taxes wasn't enough, has had the effect that the government, itself, feels impelled to cut taxes even if this means cutting defense appropriations before the election.

The best informed Ottawa correspondents of leading newspapers have reported that the Cabinet is under heavy pressure from its party in Parliament to slash taxes and revise the defense program downward. The demand has resulted from the recent by-election defeats and to a lesser degree from the two provincial elections in British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

Lester B. Pearson, minister of external affairs, apparently alarmed by these developments, recently delivered at Calgary a blunt speech of warning against any relaxation of Canada's defense. He said: "As our collective security grows, we should recover a sense of security. I would warn you, however, that there is no occasion whatever for relaxing our efforts or for any form of complacency. This is no time to lean on our oars. The armed forces and equipment of the Soviet

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown during our recent bereavement. —Mr. G. C. House and family.

Union and its satellites are mighty and are increasing. The disproportion between their forces and those readily available in the West remains serious. No gap has been closed.

"So we must still give first priority in our national policies to our defense program; the armed forces and the production of modern equipment must have the first claim on the resources of our economy. It is clear that even in an expanding economy such as Canada is now enjoying we cannot have security without some sacrifices or defense without high taxes."

The speech is interpreted as stern disapproval of those forces within the Liberal party which feel that, to assure a victory in next year's poll, the government must reduce taxes drastically, even if that involves the reduction of the military budget.

However, if Canada's unexampled industrial boom goes on, and the volume of revenue collection in the first two months of the current year and the resulting surplus continues during the remaining ten months, or perhaps increases, then taxes could be sharply cut without any contraction of defense spending.

Last year the government underspent its defense appropriation by $200 millions. There is a good chance the same experience may recur this year as the 1952-53 estimates are based on attempts to pick up the lag in the production program.

There is said to be a growing conviction in government circles that next year's defense targets should be made more realistic and reduced to the actual amount which the defense department can spend. Such a move, combined with another revenue surplus, would give the government plenty of room for the desirable vote-catching lure of pre-election tax cuts without weakening the defense program. —C.W.N.A.

Readying the Combine

Your combine has to do some hard slugging in the next few weeks, says C. A. Cheshire, Agricultural Engineer for the Alberta Department of Agriculture. Is it ready? Servicing last fall should have put it in top working shape. However, many of our combines did a season's work this spring, and in the rush of harvesting, seedling and summerfallowing all at one time, little maintenance work was done. This means a thorough check up should be made now, ahead of our actual combining season.

The power unit of course should receive servicing such as re-gapping of plugs, replacement of defective wires, setting breaker points, flushing of radiator, refilling crank case, checking air cleaner and connections, and cleaning fuel lines and carburetor jets with compressed air.

Next check the body and wheels of the machine itself. Your best guide is the instruction book supplied with your machine. Clean and pack all wheel bearings with good grade grease. Where the bearing is adjustable it should be tightened to allow free, but snug rotation.

The frame should be thoroughly inspected, loose bolts tightened and worn bolts or rivets replaced. Truss rods and braces should be in place and tightened to maintain alignment of the various parts.

Check the feeder riddle, paying particular attention to whether it is stretched, with the chain riding up on the sprockets. Closing the hook on each link by hammering can compensate for some wear.

In checking the cylinder, note whether it is possible to reverse the cylinder bars. If they are appreciably worn such a reversal may make replacement unnecessary. If one bar requires replacement, the one directly opposite should also be replaced to maintain balance.

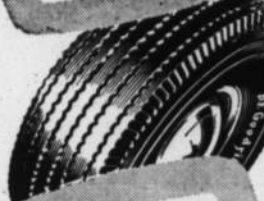

Straw walkers, sieves, and grain pans should be thoroughly inspected for soundness, and also for proper hanger or bearing adjustment.

Check slip clutches, chains and belts to see that they are all in good working order—replacement of a defective part now is much cheaper than during the combine season. A heavy crop is in prospect. Time spent now in getting your combine in A-1 shape will pay big dividends.

When the paper is put on it should be cut in 8 or 10 ft. lengths to allow for stretch and expansion of the wire.

The fence material should be cut not longer than 50 feet which would make a circular bin 16 feet in diameter. The grain must be delivered to the centre of the bin to prevent any danger of pushing it over to one side. If it is expected to leave the grain here for some time there should be a foot of straw in the bottom to absorb the moisture.

This type of a bin can be covered with sheaves or will not suffer much harm in the winter if left exposed except for high winds which sometimes will blow considerable grain off the pile.

There are other types of temporary storage, such as baled hay or straw for walls, and then of course there is the open pile which of course is much better than having it in the swath all winter.

Highway Accidents Climb

Pages of newspapers are peppered more than usually this season with stories of pile-ups of cars and trucks on highways. The most spectacular such multiple accident happened south of Toronto a few weeks ago, on the Queen Elizabeth Way. In a heavy flow of traffic, a foolish motorist stopped suddenly. The car following on his bumper, plowed into him, and so on down the line. By the time police had scrambled the mess and started traffic moving normally again, a total of approximately $30,000 damage had been caused to scores of vehicles.

This same mishap on a smaller scale occurs every day on Alberta highways. All too often these collisions result in a fatality or serious injury.

Such accidents are attributable directly to human carelessness, the most fruitful cause of all accidents. They could be eliminated were a few simple and fundamental common-sense rules to be followed by every driver. The first: never stop suddenly on a highway, and if possible never stop at all on the pavement but pull off to the side before doing so. Because of the narrowness of the shoulders along our paved roads and their lack of gravel it is not always convenient to drive off the pavement before halting. The prevalence of this type of highway mishap suggests that the department of highways could well give more thought to widening the shoulders and graveling them.

Another wise precaution is for every driver to assume that the one ahead may stop suddenly. Tests have established that a car proceeding at 50 miles an hour travels 188 feet on dry pavement after the brakes have been applied before coming to a stop. At this high speed, the vehicle goes 55 feet before a vigilant driver senses the danger and applies the brakes. So, in all, it travels 243 feet from the time the danger is sensed by a wide-awake driver until it has been halted. This distance is reduced considerably at 20 miles per hour, but even then it is 52 feet. Some books on driving hints suggest that there should be at least a car length for every 10 miles of speed between vehicles. While that is a safer procedure than virtually touching the bumpers of the car ahead, even this distance should be stretched somewhat for complete safety.

Something to remember is that the visibility range is sharply reduced at night. The limit with the best of lights is about 150 feet. Since it takes 243 feet to stop a car at 50 miles an hour after danger has been realized, there always is the possibility that at this speed a car cannot be halted at night in time to avoid crashing into a slow moving or stationary object ahead, particularly if the lane for approaching traffic is filled. Hence, a wise motorist drives at a slower speed after dark.
